SCHOOL REPORT.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL BOARD OF THE TOWN OF DUBLIN.

We are pleased to submit the eighty-seventh annual report of our schools.

At the last annual town meeting $2385 was raised and appropriated for the support of schools. In addition to this we add the income of the Sprague School Fund $368.41, Literary Fund $49.77, Unexpended Dog License for the year 1907 $239.22, and the amount received by the town for the past five years as the town's proportion of school money from the state toward paying the salary of a school superintendent $600. This amount has been lying in the town treasury during this time. These several sums amount to $3642.40, which was paid into the School District treasury the past year. Add to this the unexpended surplus of last year, and amount of supplies sold we have $5000.34; of this amount $3468.27 has been expended the past year.

Four schools have been in session thirty-six weeks each during the past year. One term was held in No. 3, and two in No. 4. The first term No. 4 scholars were transported to No. 3; the second and third terms No. 3 scholars were conveyed to No. 2.

Owing to scarlet fever having broken out in two districts, the number in attendance was somewhat reduced, but we are glad to say that it was confined to only one house in each district, with no fatal results.

Six different teachers have been employed during the year; also one music and drawing teacher (Miss Sadie M. Reed) who has been in constant attendance two days in each week. All our teachers employed at the present time have had experience varying from a few to a number of years, and we believe have labored earnestly and intelligently to accomplish desired results.

Teachers in our common schools are laboring under the disadvantage of the large number of classes, rendering in some cases injustice to the pupils. At the present time with the united and earnest efforts of superintendent and teacher, much is being done to remedy this.

An unusual degree of interest has been manifested, and marked progress made in all our schools, both in studies, music, and drawing. It should be the aim of the school board and parents to retain teachers who have proved up to the standard required, for we believe a first-class teacher in a school will prove better the second year than the first. Experience has taught that changes in teachers every term or year, is detrimental to the good of a school.

During the past year several improvements have been made to better the accommodation of those visiting schools by the erection of sheds at Nos. 2 and 5.

We notice the several articles of furniture and ornaments in some of our school rooms, which have been placed there by the united efforts of teacher and pupils. It not only shows their interest in their school but is a lesson in business, showing what scholars are able to accomplish.

One of the most important subjects taught at the present time is "language and composition." To express one's self grammatically, elegantly, and with precision should be the ambition of all. The average scholar needs a vast amount of practice in composition work to become familiar with its fundamental rules. With this end in view, much time has been devoted by our schools to this subject and a marked progress has been made. It should be encouraged and promoted on the same lines in the future.

A large amount of supplementary reading has been placed at the disposal of our schools, and in our opinion is proving beneficial. Books like "Our Country East and West," "What We Eat," and "What We Wear," contain a vast amount of accurate information that readily comes within the grasp of our pupils. Every pupil in town should read and study them.

It was hoped that the School Board would be able to have placed in each school and family a course of studies for our schools, as well as extracts from the school laws, long before this, and we still hope this may be done in the near future.

Respectfully submitted,

MILTON D. MASON,	}	School Board.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

TO THE SCHOOL BOARD, DUBLIN, N. H., GENTLEMEN :—
It is wished in handing you this report of your Superintendent for the portion of the year ending Feb. 15, 1909, to call your attention to the work which your schools have been accomplishing and to some steps in advance which might well be taken.

Reading has received a considerable share of attention in the schools, realizing as we do, that it is the basis of all school work. Feeling that the child's success in learning to read and to read well, is in a direct ratio to the interest he has for it, the schools have been furnished with a somewhat wide variety of instructive material for reading. The amount of material is not yet as great as could be wished, but by its freshness and variety it has already created a genuine love for reading in many of our pupils, and is resulting, according to the testimony of the teachers, in better expression and more intelligent reading.

Courses of study have been furnished to the several teachers in Arithmetic, Geography, and partial courses in Reading. A course of study in Language is now nearing completion and is almost ready to be distributed to the teachers.

Credit is due the teachers of the several schools for their introduction into the schools of so many things which tend to make child-life more high-minded and noble.

Fine quotations from literature, pictures, bits of nature, a piece of advice dropped here and there, all count much in making our school-life of worth in creating a citizenship for the future.

These teachers have given themselves pains to adorn their school rooms with things pleasing to the eye and of good taste; and the scholars, under their lead, have contributed many original ideas of taste, both in connection with their school room and their school work.

But not only in Reading but in matters of wide information as well, have great progress been secured. It is the intention that the material used in the reading hours shall, even in the early grades, lay a foundation of broad and genuine interest in geography, history, as well as in the masterpieces of our language.

At Christmas time a new method of reading, the Aldine, was introduced into two schools, Nos. 1 and 5. Its strong features have proved to be these: (1) A kind of work which has resulted more and more in creating in the child an ability to depend on himself, and to really assist himself in learning to read, with less direct help from his teacher ; (2) a material which has appealed so strongly to the child's nature that it has, almost by its own force, awakened intelligence in reading, and a genuine pleasure in it ; leading to (3) a love, instead of disgust, for the book. All of which are splendid tendencies. The condition of reading in every school has largely improved.

Space forbids my mentioning in detail other branches of work, but it may be briefly summed in the statement that a substantial and visible progress has been made toward realizing the ideal school in which the child shall learn by his own ability and experiment with actual material the things worth while for him to know.

Respectfully submitted,

H. H. PRATT.

REPORTS OF DRAWING AND MUSIC.

To the Superintendent of Schools :

The following report is presented on music.

At the beginning of the year the New Educational Music Readers were introduced. This system is considered one of the best at the present time. In the last report was a description of the system. Nearly all the younger pupils can read exercises in the key of C and have taken rote songs. The work of the older pupils has been a continuation of the preceding year both in melody reading and transposing. Whenever it has been possible two-part music has been taken.

The lack of strength is not, as many people think, a serious fault. Too often singing is so loud that it becomes harsh. We aim in teaching music to develop the child's emotion by teaching him to sing with expression and to develop a love of good music. The effect of this on the life of an individual is both refining and cultivating, and to my mind music should be recognized as having educational value equal to most of the subject matter taught in schools.

Respectfully submitted,

SADIE M. REED.

To the Superintendent of Schools :

The following report is presented on drawing in the Dublin schools :

We have followed in our drawing work for the past three years very nearly the state outline most of the time. Last fall term was spent in drawing leaves and fall flowers, and the winter term in object drawing, involving the principles of perspective. Applied design has been studied somewhat and put into practical use in the decorating of sofa pillows. In the spring term we shall take up the spring growths. Much of the work has been practically the same as in the preceding years, except more in detail by the older pupils. At Thanksgiving and Christmas time we have had special work ; also on the birthdays of noted men, thus correlating drawing and history.

The interest that the children and teachers have maintained in the work has been encouraging, and I wish to thank all for their helpful co-operation.

Respectfully submitted.

SADIE M. REED.
